

- Are you a small business owner in the City of Miami?
- Are you interested in growing your business and increasing revenue?
- Would you like to have a company website, but don't know where to start?

If you answered "YES" to any of these questions, then sign up for a FREE website development workshop with an Elevate Miami Technology Coach!

Elevate Miami is a partnership program coordinated by the City of Miami designed to assist our citizens in becoming more comfortable with and adaptable to new technologies.

Sign up today to build your own company website with the help of an FIU College of Business Administration Technology Coach. Technology Coaches will provide you with the following:

- Assistance with developing a preliminary website for your company using the FREE Microsoft Office Live program;
- A series of individualized workshop sessions to help guide you through the web development process;
- FREE domain name hosting for one year via Microsoft Office Live;
- Flexible hours available to fit your busy schedule;
- A personal one-on-one atmosphere where you'll feel comfortable getting your questions answered;
- And much more...

Small businesses MUST bring the following items to the workshop session:

- Company name, address, phone number, email, etc.;
- Company logo (if available);
- Credit card information (needed only to qualify your business for this offer and will NOT be charged);
- Any other information you want the public to know about your business.
